

'Tis the Season!!!

The kids and I are getting ready for the holiday concert that will be held on December 10, 2010 at Weld Central Jr. High School. The program will start at 6:30 and will include my music classes and the drama performance. There will be a variety of Christmas music for all to enjoy! I do hope that everyone will be able to make it; it will be such a great way to celebrate such a wonderful year.

On Friday, December 10th we will be going over to the Jr. High to do a dress rehearsal. We will head over around 12:00 and be back at 2:30. This will give the kids a chance to get used to their surrounds and practice on stage! The concert dress code is as follows: Please have your student(s) wear something dressy and/or something to show off their holiday spirit.

I am looking for volunteers to help usher those who attend to their seats. If you are interested please email me at nickperakos@re3j.com.

I look forward to seeing everyone at the concert on December 10th. The kids have been hard at work and I am excited to show off all their talents.

Thank you,

Nick Perakos
